

Tranche 32 Highlights

Interesting. Danielle Smith, the current premier of Alberta in Canada, apologized to the unvaccinated. She should be apologizing for much more, such as the massive morbidity and mortality she has been intimately party to. Well, at least a step in the right direction, although her imprisonment would be much more satisfactory for me. In fact, I think capital punishment would be most appropriate. What do you all think?

How responsible should you all be for your horrific decisions? Will physicians licensed by the Oregon Medical Board who were involved in state COVID mandates have their licenses revoked?

I've seen excellent physicians who have caused no harm lose their licenses because they practice Integrative Medicine, competitors want them gone, they stand up to the false accusations dumped on them by the corrupt bullies at the OMB, etc. Don't believe me? You have my phone number – call me and find out. I have numerous examples for you.

There is a nationwide academic crisis for which you all hold responsibility.

Looks like the 'system' (the government) and the pharmaceutical companies knew all along about the serious and significant sequelae of the COVID shots after 15,000 pages of clinical trials data were released. Oops!

The CDC altered death certificates of those who died of a COVID shot.

Graphene oxide 'nanobots' are in the COVID shots.
